DKSH introduces innovative portfolio of specialty chemicals at KOPLAS 2019

DKSH will promote a broad range of specialty chemicals for diverse industrial applications at KOPLAS 2019 in Goyang, Korea from March 12-16.

Seoul, Korea, March 11, 2019 – DKSH's Business Unit Performance Materials, a leading ingredients and specialty chemicals distributor, will introduce a range of innovative products from its key clients, including Clariant, DSM and PolyOne, at this year's KOPLAS trade show in Goyang, Korea.

KOPLAS is Korea's leading plastics, rubber materials and composites show. It provides a platform for exhibitors and visitors to tap into the current and future trends in the plastic and rubber industry.

DKSH will exhibit at stand P901, where its specialists will showcase a diverse range of innovative products, including:

- High-performance engineering plastics for automotive, industrial, electric and electronic applications from DSM
- Polymer additives, including flame retardants, anti-oxidants, UV stabilizer and high-performance wax from Clariant
- Thermoplastic elastomer resin, polymer colorants and additives for consumer, packaging, healthcare, electronic, transportation and appliance applications from PolyOne

Seungpil Jang, General Manager, DKSH Korea, commented: "We are very much looking forward to exhibiting, for the first time, at KOPLAS. The event is important for us to connect with new and existing business partners and to promote our product portfolio and value-added services in this key market."
