DKSH gives Red Bull Wings in New Zealand

DKSH, the leading Market Expansion Services provider with a focus on Asia Pacific, has renewed its agreement with Red Bull, the world's most popular energy drink, continuing a very successful partnership.

Palmerston North, New Zealand, August 14, 2015 – DKSH Business Unit Consumer Goods, Asia's leading Market Expansion Services provider for fast moving consumer goods, will continue to offer field marketing and sales services for Red Bull in the grocery retail channel in New Zealand.

Calling on all supermarkets in New Zealand, DKSH provides Red Bull significant depth and quality of distribution. With its large sales force, DKSH is able to offer long-term customer relationships that add more value and quality at each sales call. DKSH's field marketing tools give Red Bull a full overview on the distribution status, share of shelf, promotional compliance and other core sales drivers.

Gavin Pook, General Manager, Red Bull New Zealand, said: "The team at Red Bull looks forward to a healthy, positive and prosperous continuation of the business partnership that both Red Bull and DKSH have invested in for more than two years. I very much believe that we are on the right track and together have a lot of potential to grow both our businesses."

Russell Wilson, Managing Director, Business Unit Consumer Goods, DKSH New Zealand Limited, added: "It is a great privilege to be able to extend our partnership with Red Bull. Our businesses complement each other very strongly. Red Bull's unique and powerful above-the-line product combined with DKSH's strong in-store marketing and sales activities will help both organizations improve and grow into the future."

The renewal of the agreement between DKSH New Zealand and Red Bull will enable a continued positive trend in DKSH's market position and contribution to the Group's overall profitability over time.
